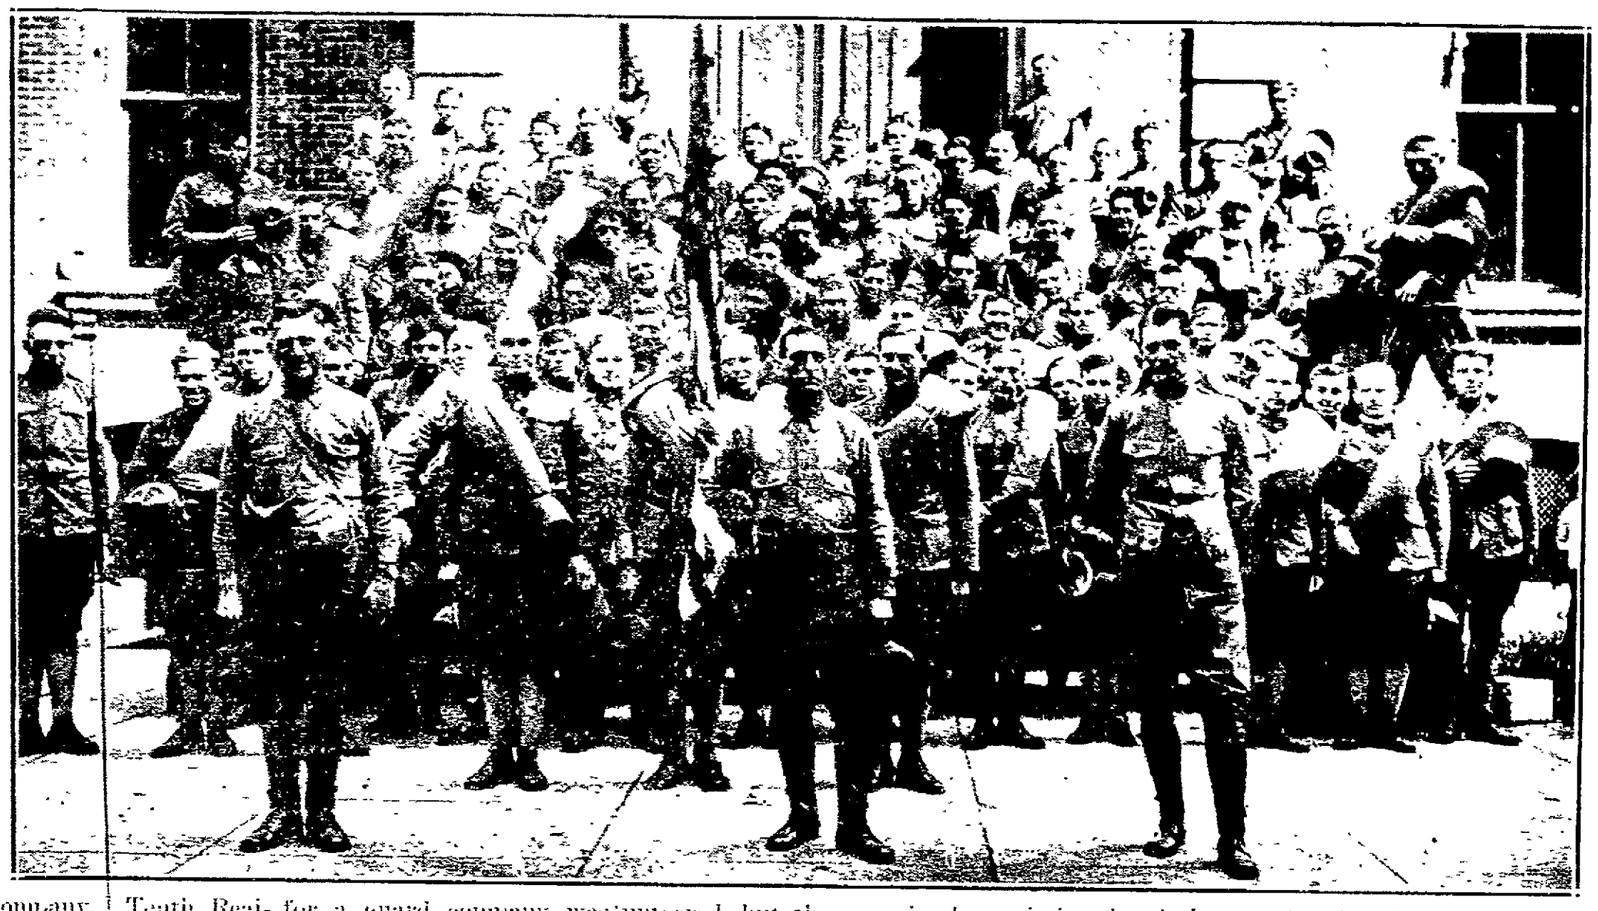
Company I, Tenth Regiment O. N. G., Which Was Lately Disbanded After Brief Existence



Company I Tenth Regiment of the Ohio National Guard, had a brief existence as a military organization. Conceived by D. G. Stitts, later commissioned as captain, William Champanois and others, the movement for a guard company was launched here in February, 1916. On March 8, of the same year, Mr. Stitts advertised in The Tribune for volunteers. During the Mexican trouble, when the war fever was high, several volunteered, but the organization was not perfected.

Within a few weeks after the declaration of a state of war with Germany, during the present year, Captain D. G. Stitts, Lieutenant Howard Bible and Second Lieutenant Stuart B. Hays were commissioned and given authority to recruit a company of guardsmen to be known as Company I and attached to the new Tenth Regiment.

The company entered the Federal service in July and encamped at Fairlawn Park for several weeks. On September 16 Company I entrained for Montgomery, Ala. A few days later the organization was doomed to be disbanded and the volunteers for Company I are now members of companies from Massillon, Canton and Ravenna.

CLEVELAND SOCIALIST TALK HERE

Introduced by John Rose local Socialist leader, C E Ruthenberg Socialist candidate for the mayorship of Cleveland, delivered one of the best addresses that has been heard in Coshocton for a long time. The speaker has a forceful personality and is a fluent speaker and the house attracted a good audience last evening at the court square

Mr. Ruthenberg's topic was "The Issues of the Day," he principally about the war and the Socialist party. He flayed the capitalist class of the United States and European countries. Several times during the speech, Mr Ruthenberg was applauded by his hearers No attempt was made on the part of the hoodlums to create a disturbance.

Before introducing Ruthenberg, Mr House made a brief speech saying that the Socialist party is holding meetings with difficulty all over the country. He declared that the opposing parties have no arguments and cannot successfully answer the question brought up by the Socialist party and for this reason are saying "Suppress the Socialist party before it gets started."

Armenians Massacred By Turks For Their Clothes

Hired Assassians Declared Bullets Were Wasted So They Use Axes

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, SEPT. 29.—"The slaughter with axes of all the Armenian faculty members of Anatolia College, Marsovan, Northern Asia Minor, together with 1,200 students by Turkish peasants whose pay for the work was the privilege of stripping the clothing off their victims' bodies, was described here today by the Rev. George E. White president of the college, recently returned to this country. The massacres commenced at night by order of the Turkish government, he said. The Armenians being sent out in lots of a hundred or more to their doom and their bodies rolled into prepared burial trenches.

"One group of our college boys asked permission to sing before they died and then sang 'Nearer My God to Thee.' Then they were struck down."

Mr. White said

"The situation for Armenia became increasingly acute in the spring of 1915 when the Turks determined to eliminate the Armenian question by eliminating the Armenians. The Armenian question arises from political and religious causes.

"On the pretext of searching for deserting soldiers, concealed bombs, weapons, seditious literature or revolutionists, the Turkish officers arrested about 1,200 Armenian men at Mar-

Miller Says Fair Will Equal Those Of Other Seasons

The Coshocton County annual fair—Coshocton fair hereafter—opens in the state capital today rising on the horizon of event in the affairs of the year. Many booths and the grounds are being given the final touches Saturday while others were just beginning. Miller, of the agricultural board stated last evening that in his opinion the fair this year would equal in every way those of other years and greatly surpass any held by other counties.

All entries closed last night at ten o'clock. Mr. Miller stated that all entries coming by mail and bearing a post mark antedating that time would have to be accepted.

Approximately one hundred horses have been entered in the races. The entries for the races closed Friday evening at ten o'clock. Some of the best horses in the middle west will be started in the speed contests next week.

Some of the best flocks of sheep and cattle herds will be displayed at the Coshocton fair barns during the next week. C. E. Trombull of near Plainfield, will display his pedigreed Holstein cattle. The Durham and Short horn herd from Dover will also be on display. Lewis Frantz of Bluffton, will exhibit his Galloway cattle. The O. J. Bloomer prize sheep can be seen at the sheep barn next week. Many other entries that will attract considerable favorable comment, will be here also. One of the best flock of chickens in the country, owned by Frank Lockett of Coshocton, will be entered in the prize contests.

Amusements of all sorts and the customary and new concessions will make their appearance Monday, drawing the fair attendants. As usual the nerve wracking squawkers will be dispensed in addition to the little whips with which the boys and girls attract attention. Mr Miller ended by saying that the stage is set for the best fair in the history of the organization of the Coshocton Agricultural Society.

Federals Shut Out Newcomers In Fast Game

NEWCOMERSTOWN, O., SEPT. 29.—Ohio's Coshocton Federals took the first game in the big series for the $290 purse from the Newcomerstown Clows at Warner Field today in fine style the Coshocton boys playing the best brand of baseball that has represented the Federals this season. With Houser in the box the Newcomerstown team had about as much chance of winning the game as President Wilson has of dining with the Kaiser on Christmas-day, for when hits meant runs Joe tightened up and the Clow boys could not see them. Every man on the Feds seemed to be in his right place, and their two errors did not produce anything in run getting for their opponents.

The second game of the series will be played this afternoon at the Red Sea diamond, and Newcomerstown is banking on taking it as Carpenter, who has been drafted by the Cincinnati Reds will do the hurling. Hook will pitch for Coshocton, and he says the series will not go over two games as he feels confident of winning.

PLAY BY INNINGS

FIRST

COSHOCTON—Hook struck out McKernan out, Texter to Lindsey. Hook caught one of Cheney's benders that missed being fair by a foot, and which would have been a home run. Hook missed the third one.

NEWCOMERSTOWN — Harris, first man up scratched singl to right. Ley whiffs. Lyons hits into double play by fast fielding of Hook to McKernan.

SECOND

COSHOCTON—Brazier robbed of home run, his drive hitting a post in right field, and he pulled up at second Clark bunt flies out to Cheney. Martin hits to Cheney who throws Brazier out at third. Elliott out, air route to Harris.

NEWCOMERSTOWN—Cheney flies to Clark. Texter out at first, McKernon unassisted. Lindsey struck out.

THIRD

COSHOCTON—Houser out at first, Lindsey to Cheney. Heck out at first, McKernan out, Harris to Lindsey.

NEWCOMERSTOWN—Latham out, Heck to McKernan. Houser sprains his ankle but continuent game. Boltz walks. Hartman strike out and Boltz goes to third on wild throw by Houser to second. Harris misses three.

FOURTH

COSHOCTON — Hook singles to short. Brazier out on fly to Ley. Hook steals second. Sondles was passed purposely while Hook stole third Clark's single, too hot for Ley, scores both Hook and Sondles with the first runs of the game. Clark caught stealing second. Martin struck out.

NEWCOMERSTOWN — Ley called out on strikes. Lyons struck out Chaney out, Martin to McKernan.

FIFTH

COSHOCTON—Elliott safe at first on Cheney's error. Houser sacrifices Elliott to second. Heck out, Ley to Lindsey—Elliott going to third McKernan out at first.

NEWCOMERSTOWN — Texter out, Houser to McKernan. Lindsey out, Hook to McKernan. Latham struck out.

SIXTH

COSHOCTON—Hook out on foul to Harris who made nice catch. Brazier out, Chaney to Lindsey. Chaney puts one in reach of Sondles, and "Doc" promptly singles over second. Clark out, Texter to Lindsey.

NEWCOMERSTOWN—Boltz struck out. Hartman out, Houser to McKernan. Harris misses the third one.

SEVENTH

COSHOCTON—Martin out on fly to Texter. Elliott struck out Houser out on airplane to Ley.

NEWCOMERSTOWN — Ley out, Hook to McKernan. Lyons out, Hook to McKernan. Cheney safe at first on error by Martin. Texter hits one over second which gets thru Clark, altho Henry recovers the ball, and with a perfect peg home gets Cheney by five feet for the third out.

EIGHTH

COSHOCTON—Heck flies to Texter McKernan out, Ley to Lindsey. Hook out, Ley to Lindsey.

NEWCOMERSTOWN—Heck makes a brilliant stop of Lindsey's grounder, and gets his man at McKernan's corner. Latham out on fly to McKernan who makes a running catch. Boltz hits thru short for a single. Carpenter bats for Hartman but does not get a chance as Houser catches Boltz napping on first.

NINTH

COSHOCTON—Brazier flies to Carpenter in right. With no one on bases, Cheney pitches to Sondles who hits home run over Carpenter's head in right field, the ball did not stop rolling until it hit the creek bank. Clark singles between second and first. Martin singles over third, Clark taking second. Elliott flies out to Boltz. Houser out at first, Lindsey unassisted.

NEWCOMERSTOWN — Carpenter walks. Harris safe on Houser's wild throw to second trying for double play Ley and Lyons both strike out. Cheney pops to McKernan, ending the game.

Two base hit—Brazier. Home run—Sondles. Umpires—"Cy" Young.

NOTES ON THE GAME

"Cy" Young the "real Old Man of baseball" made a hit with the fans by his excellent umpiring.

Cheney certainly had a bad eye for "Doc" Sondles' batting eye as he walked him purposely the first two times up, and the only two times he pitched to him. Sondles laced out a single. The second time, just to keep the Newcomerstown rooters from saying Coshocton did not earn a run, "Doc" bet one on the creek bank for a home run.

Heck and Brazier old friends of "Skummy" Hook were valuable assets to the Feds as they played the big kind of baseball.

Great credit of winning the game should be given Hook for his clean fielding at second, and his clever base-running, stealing both second and third on Latham in one inning—by the way "Skummy" pitches today, and he says Coshocton will win the $290.

The three hits off of Houser were scratch ones, and when Newcomerstown had a chance to score he lost no time in striking out the "Do or die" batters.

"Mud" Elliott demonstrated that he is a real receiver.

McKernan covered the first station like a Hal Chase.

Martin and Clark filled in just right in the Fed line up, and it was Henry that produced the first two runs for Coshocton.

Manager Otto Bries pulled regular Hughey Jenning's stuff on the side lines, and he was worth at least 10c of the admission price.

The second game today at the Red Sea should be a hummer as Newcomerstown rooters are coming down two hundred strong, and with Carpenter in the box they figure on evening up the series.

CURED HIS RUPTURE

I was badly ruptured while lifting a trunk several years ago. Doctors said my only hope of cure was an operation. Trusses did me no good. Finally I got hold of something that quickly and completely cured me. Years have passed and the rupture has never returned, although I am doing hard work as a carpenter. There was no operation, no lost time, no trouble. I have nothing to sell but will give full information about how you may find a complete cure without operation, if you write to me, Eugene M. Pullen, Carpenter, 321 D Marcellus Avenue, Manasquan, N. J. Better cut out this notice and show it to any others who are ruptured—you may save a life or at least stop the misery of rupture and the worry and danger of an operation.

Even Cross, Sick Children Love Syrup Of Figs

Don't scold your fretful, peevish child. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with sour waste.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally has stomachache, indigestion, diarrhoea, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul waste, the sour bile and fermenting food passes out of the bowels and you have a well and playful child again. Mothers love this harmless fruit laxative, and mothers can't say enough about it, because it never fails to make children healthy, clean and sweet.

Keep it handy, Mother! A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for a 50 cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Remember there are counterfeits sold here, so surely look and see that yours is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Hand back with contempt any other fig syrup.

What Came From Reading a Pinkham Advertisement.

Paterson, N. J.—"I thank you for the Lydia E. Pinkham remedies as they have made me well and healthy. Sometime ago I felt so run down, had pains in my back and side, was very irregular, tired, nervous, had such bad dreams, did not feel like eating and had short breath. I read your advertisement in the newspapers and decided to try a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It worked from the first bottle, so I took a second and a third, also a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Blood Purifier, and now I am just as well as any other woman. I advise every woman, single or married, who is troubled with any of the aforesaid ailments, to try your wonderful Vegetable Compound and Blood Purifier and I am sure they will help her to get rid of her troubles as they did me."—Mrs. ELSIE J. THE TAX ARGUMENTS OF THE WETS

What a pitiful argument the liquor interests are making in Ohio this year in a final effort to bolster up a cause that is doomed. Every newspaper office in the state is daily in receipt of a vast quantity of printed matter urging that it would be a bad thing for the state's finances, morals and industries to prohibit the manufacture and sale of intoxicants.

The tax argument is again to the fore. When the liquor people can't argue taxes it will be because the breath of life has departed from the traffic. The heads of the brewery trust seem not to know that the people years ago saw thru their fallacious tax argument, not only in theory, but from experience in scores of dry cities, counties and states.

In a piece of wet literature that was sent out the other day to Coshocton county voters the following sweeping statement was made in regards to taxes:

> "Taxes have been a life and death matter to twenty-three states that are reported by the Federal Government to be bankrupt."

This evidently refers to the twenty-three states which now have prohibitory laws. In the first place the federal government never reported any such thing. In the second place the twenty-three dry states are in far better shape in regard to state finances than any corresponding wet states that can be named. Aside from these two ridiculous and apparent falsehoods the above statement is correct.

In another paragraph in the same statement appears the following convincing (?) taxation argument:

> "Cities are so overwhelmed with debt and constantly increasing demands for more money that officials have as good as thrown up their hands."

The inference is that the writer means cities in dry territory are "overwhelmed with debt" to the extent that "officials have as good as thrown up their hands." Now if the writer had said that wet cities are "overwhelmed with debt" and that their "officials have as good as thrown up their hands," he would have given a true picture of practically every wet municipality in the United States.

Later on in his statement he does say that "Cleveland, Cincinnati, Toledo, Columbus, Youngstown, Akron, Lima, Sandusky—cities large and small—all are crying for more revenue." He has stated the case exactly. But are these cities dry? Is it the lack of saloons—or their overwhelming presence—in the eight cities he has named that for years has strained their finances to the point of breaking?

It is the saloon, above all things else, that has been the financial millstone about the necks of these wet Ohio municipalities. For at least a decade past, and the Lord alone knows how much longer, poor old Cincinnati has gone regularly to every session of the Ohio General Assembly and moved heaven and earth to get the statute repealed which fixes a limit on the bonded indebtedness which Ohio cities may incur. Has it ever occurred to the wet writer that if saloons could save a city from financial difficulties, Cincinnati, above all others, should be the taxpayers' paradise?

No, the tax argument has long since been exploded for the wets. The truth is that the real taxpayers of the state are at last awake to the enormous drain imposed on all kinds of property for the support of alms houses and orphans' homes, of jails, penitentiaries and workhouses; of reformatories, industrial schools and criminal courts; of asylums for the care of the insane, the epileptic and the feeble-minded; of juvenile courts and detention homes; and of all the other long list of public institutions which constitute perhaps seven-eighths of the fixed charges on modern society, and the most of which, on the authority of the most expert legal, medical and judicial opinion in the world, is directly or indirectly due to the traffic in beverage intoxicants.

The trouble with cities everywhere is that the liquor interests are depriving them of potential taxpayers. The saloon is turning boys—and girls—out of the home onto the streets to earn a miserable pittance when they should be in school. It is tying bread winners to the wheel of the liquor chariot and converting home owners into tenants. Its whole tendency is to keep men from being taxpayers and converting them into public charges.

When we take the most superficial look at modern municipal life it is not hard to see why cities everywhere are drifting to the verge of bankruptcy or why there is an ever-increasing demand for more public revenues to take care of the ever-increasing tide of human derelicts. The thing that today is taking the boys and girls, the greatest asset of the state, out of the homes, out of the public schools and into criminal resorts and brothels, finally to become inmates of our penal institutions, is the one institution that is most responsible for our mounting municipal tax levies.

Retain the saloons to pay our taxes? Vote back the saloon to save our cities from bankruptcy? That is not the issue. The issue is, how much longer can our Cincinnatis and Toledos stand to have the millstone of saloon domination hung about their necks and escape insolvency?

Scanning the record of prohibition contests in the past ten years it would seem that the American people are fast learning the truth of this incontrovertible economic maxim: THE THING THAT BRINGS POVERTY TO THE INDIVIDUAL CAN NEVER BRING WEALTH TO THE STATE.

PREMIER ACCEPTS!

congress, said he would not be arrested in the hall of the congress but would be apprehended if found outside the hall. The Maximalists, therefore decided not to bring Lenine from his hiding place.

Question Premier's Power.

Premier Kerensky took the initiative Friday, and coldly faced what may be the supreme test of the power of his government. At the very beginning of the democratic congress, called by the Maximalists and the council of workmen's and soldiers' delegates to question his power and perhaps to depose and a new government, he prepared and accepted the challenge.

He told the congress that his regime had saved Russia in its darkest hours.

The government also indicated its power by a firm continuation of the war when General Verkhovsky, minister of war, pledged the convention to a victory over Germany. If discipline in the army was restored, Premier Kerensky referred to the reform measures and his announcement that the officers would be hereafter chosen by the officers, instead of elected by the soldiers, was applauded only mildly, but the address as a whole evoked more cheers than did the premier's.

Mr. Kerensky in his speech referred to the case of General Korniloff, who he said, had prevented a coup d'etat. I destroyed, he said, informed the convention of the existence of a plot against the life of the republic.

Kerensky Is Heckled

When the premier declared that the government would not recognize the decisions of the convention, a voice in the gallery shouted: "Down with the traitor!" Premier Kerensky indicated that he had a small minority with him. The Socialists supporting him contend that he has a majority of the convention. The government ministers had a meeting late tonight to discuss the effect of his appearance but none of the ministers would talk.

A crisis probably will come Saturday when the work of preliminary organization has been completed and the radical left presents its extremist program.

The Bolsheviki and the conservatives alike will make an effort tomorrow toward firming up their strength thru party conferences.

Split In Ranks.

An instance of a split even in the closest party ranks was given the congress today when M. Tchernoff, the spokesman for the workmen's and soldiers' party, referred to Gen. Kaledines, the chief of the Cossacks, as that "miserable Kaledines." One of the Cossacks' delegates shouted, "You dare not attack General Kaledines."

Another Cossack leaped to his feet shouting: "Go on! Kaledines is a traitor!"

Unusual vigilance was observed by the military authorities of Petrograd tonight in connection with the congress. The guards at the winter palace were increased and they halted many passers-by, as did the guards at other government buildings.

Hopes Russians Will Fight.

The section of General Verkovoksky's speech concerning the efforts of Germany to obtain peace at the expense of Russia provoked great applause.

"Our gallant allies," the war minister said, "have replied to the dastardly offer by unconditionally rejecting it, believing, as I believe, that the Russian army still will bare its breast to free the fatherland."

The general said he would handle the army without gloves, altho it had plenty of good intentions. He pointed out defects, saying:

"The Twelfth army before Riga did not refuse to fight and die, but we need men to fight and win victories. The fleet does not refuse to fight but at the same time it murders its officers. We hear many worthy words about the army and fleet but we have a great many deserters. The glorious victories on the southwest front in July terminated in a disgraceful retreat."

ARMENIANS

sovan, accompanying their investigations by horrible brutalities. There was no revolutionary activity in our region whatever.

"The men were sent out in lots of one or two hundred in night 'deportations' to the mountains where trenches had been prepared. Coarse peasants, who were employed to do what was done, said it was a 'pity to waste bullets' and they used axes.

"Then the Turks turned on the women and children, the old men and little boys. Scores of oxcarts were gathered and in the early dawn as they passed, the squeaking of their wheels left memories that make the blood curdle even now. Thousands of women and children were swept away. Where? Nowhere. No destination was stated or intended. Why? Simply because they were Armenians and Christians and were in the hands of the Turks.

"Girls and young women were snatched away at every turn on the journey. The girls sold at Marsovan for from $2 to $4 each. I know because I heard the conversation of men engaged in the traffic—I know because I was able to ransom three girls at the price of $140.

"The misery, the agony, the suffering were beyond power o fwords to express—almost beyond the power of hearts to conceive. In bereavement, thirst, hunger, loneliness, hopelessness the groups were swept on and on along roads which had no destination.

"I received word from Ambassador Morgenthau that our premises would not be interfered with. Next morning the chief of police came with armed men and demanded surrender of all Armenians connected with the College, Girls' School and Hospital. We claimed the right to control our grounds as American citiens.

"More than two hours we held them at bay. They brought more armed men. They again demanded surrender of the Armenians. I refused. They challenged me for resisting the Turkish government. They said any one who did so was liable to immediate execution.

"They broke open our gates, brought in oxcarts and asked where the Armenians were. I refused to tell. They went thru the buildings smashing down the doors. Then our Armenian friends feeling that further attempt on our part to save them would bring harm probably than good, came forth, professed themselves loyal Turkish subjects and offered to do what was required.

"An oxcart was assigned each family with a meager supply of food, bedding and clothing. The mother sat on the load with her children about her, the father prepared to walk beside the cart. I offered prayer and then the sad procession carrying 72 persons from the college and hospital moved away.

"These teachers were men of character, education, ability and usefulness, several of them representing the fine type of graduates from American or European universities. The company went in safety for about fifty miles. Then the men were separated from the women. Their hands were bound behind their backs and they were led away. The eight Armenian members of the staff of instruction of Anatolia College were among the slain. The women and children were moved on and on. No one knows where and no one knows how many of them are still living.

"The government officers plowed the Armenian cemetery in Marsovan and sowed it with grain as a symbol that no Armenian should live or die to be buried there. No Armenian student or teacher was left to Anatolia College and of the Protestant congregation in the city of 950 souls, more than 900 with their pastors were swept away. It was a government movement thruout—a movement against the Armenian people.

"These things are typical of what took place thru the six provinces of the Turkish Empire known as Armenia. The Armenians are the Yankees of the East—the merchants, manufacturers, capitalists, artisans and among the best of the farmers. One quarter of a million people succeeded in escaping into Russian Caucasus and among them American representatives have done wonderful work in caring for the sick, giving bread to the hungry, clothing the naked, caring for orphans. Probably a million more went to Syria and Mesopotamia where they have been dependent upon American relief which is helping this worthy people to pull thru alive."

The number of Armenians who have been massarded, said Dr. White, is estimated by the American Committe for Armenian and Syrian Relief in New Yorw city at from 500,000 to 1,000,000 while there are a million still living in need of immediate aid, for which $5,000,000 a month is urgently needed, without which thousands will perish in destitution and suffering. The committee is so conducted, he said, that every dollar collected goes for relief purposes.

Dr White, now living in Minneapolis, was ordered to leave Marsovan by the Turkish government. He was formerly pastor of the Congregational church in Waverly, Ia.

In addition to arrests here, federal agents took into custody in other cities men who were included in the indictments which were returned yesterday as a result of evidence obtained during the raids on I. W. W. headquarters in various parts of the country early this month.

ARRESTS AT YOUNGSTOWN

Arrests of leaders of the organization were made last night in San Francisco, Portland, Ore.; Des Moines, Ia.; Youngstown, Ohio; Huntington, W. Va.; Philadelphia and Cambridge, Mass. Federal officials expect that other arrests will be made during the day. The United States district attorney's office in a statement on the I. W. W. activities said:

"The propaganda of the defendants consists of assertions that 'we are going to take possession of the industries of this country, because we are in this crisis possessed of the power to put it over.' In addition there is running through all these endeavors a pronounced opposition to the support of the war."

Statements by federal officials that the offenses charged in the indictments are "next in gravity to treason," and that all of the 166 persons indicted would probably be brought to Chicago for trial, added interest in the case.

PAPERS SHOW CONSPIRACY

Papers seized in the raids have revealed, according to federal agents, the existence of a definite and far reaching conspiracy to embarrass the government and also show that Chicago was the headquarters for the plot.

It became known today that the indictments were returned before half of the evidence seized in recent raids on I. W. W. headquarters had been examined. The sudden action is said to have been due in part to the character of the evidence exhibited and to the information in the hands of government agents, that the agitators were busy in various parts of the United States in spite of recent raids. It was pointed out by officials of the government that a large number of men indicted are officers of the I. W. W.

Lawyer's Unique Error.

The lovely lady consulted the popular attorney in regard to getting a divorce. She was particularly interested in knowing how much it would cost. After looking over the case the lawyer said: "This is comparatively easy. I can get you a divorce without any publicity whatever for $500." She looked at him haughtily. "I have plenty of money," she said. "How much will it cost with plenty of publicity and everything?" He says that she was a person who wanted things done right, so he hastily revised his figures.—The Argonaut.

Prayer for Perpetual Aid.

The theologian says the only form of prayer given for perpetual aid in the Old Testament is the one in Deuteronomy (26:5-15), connected with the offering of tithes and first fruits.

City subscribers should insist on a receipt from the carrier.

Throwing Heat Away.

On all sea going steamers the steam is condensed by sea water pumped through the surface condensers. This circulating water is then discharged overboard. In the process of condensation the cooling water taken in at temperatures varying from 32 degrees to 88 degrees Fahrenheit according to climate and other conditions, is raised to temperatures varying from 80 to 100 degrees and then discharged. This great loss of heat is practically unavoidable, says the Popular Science Monthly. Even on comparatively small steamers hundreds of tons of heated water are pumped overboard daily. This constitutes one of the greatest heat losses in the operation of steam machinery, although sometimes a portion of the warm water is used for scrubbing decks and for bath water on passenger ships.

Wasted Energy.

Peculiarities of Sleep.

A person absolutely without sleep for nine days will die. Sufferers from insomnia sometimes maintain that they have gone for weeks without sleep, but it has been proved that they actually sleep without being aware of it. At a certain point sleep is inevitable, no matter what the bodily condition, the alternative being death. A method of taming wild elephants is said to be that of depriving the animals of sleep when first caught. In a few days they become practically spiritless and harmless. The brain of the elephant is held to be more highly developed than that of any other wild animal; but, of course, as compared with a human brain, can be easily fatigued by new impressions, and so made dependent on sleep.

Easy to Raise Sheep.

Sheep are docile, easily handled, will live on a greater diversity of food, will thrive on pastures earlier in the spring and later in the fall and require less grain than other stock.

Cancer Not Hereditary.

According to the statistics of six large life insurance companies, compiled by an expert actuary for the American Society for the Control of Cancer, if one or even both of an individual's parents have died of cancer, that individual is no more likely than anyone else to die of the same disease. It begins to look as though cancer were not hereditary at all, contrary to ancient belief.

Has to Play Dog.

"We do not keep a dog," stated Sargy little Mr. Meek, "and so, when a particularly truculent looking tramp comes to the door, my wife makes me stay out of sight and growl like a fierce Numidian lion."—Kansas City Star.

WITH THE SPECIAL SCENERY — ELECTRICAL EFFECT

The management takes pleasure in announcing as its attraction FAIR WEEK the most pretentious musical comedy erroute, namely, "Billy Allen Musical Company," coming as it does with the endorsement of thousands upon thousands of playgoers and an unbroken record of six years of unparalleled success. The costuming and staging of the different musical productions will be on a scale of magnificence that will equal any of the so-called $1.50 musical performances ever given in Coshocton. There are 35 people in the company and the chorus of twenty consists of young, sprightly maidens that are well drilled and it is a whirling, twirling, good looking chorus that have ability and grace besides their appearance and good looks.

George Lane Tells Of Impressions Of Life In The South

Mr. and Mrs. John Lane, of Vine street, received the following letter from their son, George Lane, who is at Montgomery, Ala., with Company I:

Dear Mother:

I arrived here O. K. at nine o'clock last night and went out to Camp Sheridan where we had to work all day long. It was some trip, cotton fields, molasses cane, small negro cottages intermingled with the big hills and huge pine tres sets the scenery of the south off in a class by itself.

Pretty girls, both black and white, were kept busy along the line waving their hands as our battalion went past. At Birmingham we got off out train, the first time on our trip and double quicked time for about five blocks to limbur ourselves up. I also noticed that the blacks never spoke unless addressed and then they answered with the word sir.

Well, we went into camp and started work cutting trees, grubbing stumps and digging drains on our company street, which is located in the swamps. We worked all day then I came up to the Y. M. C. A. tent where I am writing this letter.

And, take it from me, it is some more place, a piano, singers, phonographs, reading tables and writing desks on which we write letters to home, sweet home and sweetheart. Stuart Hays, Jr., is learning the boys of our company, the war songs. I am trying to explain the best I can, the pleasure and good time we have, but I know that you don't or can't realize it or you want to join our company and come to Dixie land.

Our camp is one huge and immense structure that is better arranged than any town or city I ever saw. The band is just coming into the Y. M. C. A. to give the Tenth Regiment a concert. I guess this is all for this time so will close hoping you are having a good time, I remain,

Yours sincerely,
George A. Lane.

P. S.—Enjoying myself. Going to send some cotton and phosphorus home. We find the phosphorus at night on the ground when it "lights up." The Tenth has some band. Chaplain Fraser, of the Tenth, made us a good speech. Give by best wishes and love to all. Haven't received that Q. M. C. transfer yet. Companies I, K, L, M, are to be changed to the machine gun corps of the light artillery and sent to Texas or North Carolina soon.

An opportunity to buy Men's Wool Hose at the "old prices." Good heavy wool hose, 25c. Fine wool cassimere hose, 35c. Extra fine cassimere, 75c values 50c.

CASE EASY FOR O.S.U.

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS, SEPT. 29.—The Ohio State football team, western conference champions of 1916, opened the season here today by soundly beating the Case eleven of Cleveland 49 to 0. "Chic" Harley, all American half back, opened the season by a kick of fifty yards to Britten, who returned it to his twenty yard line. After four and one half minutes of play Bossel went thru center for four yards and the first touchdown.

From then on State went thru Keifer's apparently weak line at will.

Hospital Notes

Charles Infeld, of Coshocton, is recovering from an operation performed Saturday morning at the City hospital by Drs. Jesse McClain, E. C. Carr and T. W. Lear. Infeld's condition was entirely satisfactory late last evening.

James McDowell, of Locust street, underwent a successful operation Saturday morning at the City hospital. The operating surgeons were Jesse McClain, E. C. Carr and T. W. Lear.

Mrs. L. Kuhn, of Warsaw, who has been undergoing medical treatment at the City hospital, was removed to her home Saturday.

Mrs. Mary Dailey of South Fifth street, was removed from the City hospital to her home Saturday morning.

STATE SUPPLIES DATA ON AID FOR SCHOOS

Prof. L. C. Shaw, county superintendent of schools, received the following instructions from the state school supervisor Saturday:

Under the present law school districts are required to pay certain minimum salaries to the regular elementary and high school teachers.

In order that these salaries may be paid in cases where the district has exhausted its revenue producing power and finds itself unable to pay the full sum required, the state extends aid.

The salaries fixed by law are as follows:

Elementary teachers without previous teaching experience in Ohio $50.00
Elementary teachers having at least one year's professional training $55.00
Elementary teachers who have completed the full two years' course in any normal school, teachers' college or university approved by the State Superintendent $60.00
High school teachers, not to exceed an average of $80.00

In order to qualify for this aid the salaries fixed by laws must be paid; the schools must be open for eight months in the year; the district must levy the maximum amount permitted by law, and two-thirds of this levy must be for the Tuition Fund.

Application blanks can be obtained by calling at the County Supt. office.

SAYS BODY IS A POISON FACTORY

Urges everyone to drink glass of hot water before breakfast.

Just as coal, when it burns, leaves behind a certain amount of incombustible material in the form of ashes, so the food and drink taken day after day leaves in the alimentary canal a certain amount of indigestible material, which if not completely eliminated and to keep the entire alimentary canal from becoming food for the millions of bacteria which infest the bowels. From this mass of left-over waste, toxins and ptomaine-like poisons are formed and sucked into the blood.

Men and women who can't get feeling right must begin to take inside baths. Before eating breakfast each morning drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash out of the thirty feet of bowels the previous day's accumulation of poisons and nated from the system each day, be tary canal clean, pure and fresh.

Those who are subject to sick headache, colds, biliousness, constipation, others who wake up with bad taste foul breath, backache, rheumatic stiffness, or have a sour, gassy stomach after meals, are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store, and begin practicing internal sanitation. This will cost very little, but is sufficient to make anyone an enthusiast on the subject.

Remember inside bathing is more important than outside bathing, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing poor health, while the bowel pores do Just as soap and hot water cleanses, sweetens and freshens the skin, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels.

George Lane Tells Of Impressions Of Life In The South

Mr. and Mrs. John Lane, of Vine street, received the following letter from their son, George Lane, who is at Montgomery, Ala., with Company I.

Dear Mother:

I arrived here O. K. at nine o'clock last night and went out to Camp Sheridan where we had to work all day long. It was some trip, cotton fields, molasses cane, small negro cottages intermingled with the big hills and huge pine tres sets the scenery of the south off in a class by itself

Pretty girls, both black and white, were kept busy along the line waving their hands as our battalion went past. At Birmingham we got off our train, the first time on our trip and double quicked time for about five blocks to limber ourselves up. I also noticed that the blacks never spoke unless addressed and then they answered with the word sir.

Well, we went into camp and started work cutting trees, grubbing stumps and digging drains on our company street, which is located in the swamps. We worked all day then I came up to the Y. M. C. A. tent where I am writing this letter.

And, take it from me, it is some more place, a piano, singers, phonographs, reading tables and writing desks on which we write letters to home, sweet home and sweethearts. Stuart Hays, Jr., is learning the boys of our company, the war songs. I am trying to explain the best I can, the pleasure and good time we have, but I know that you don't or can't realize it or you want to join our company and come to Dixie land

Our camp is one huge and immense structure that is better arranged than any town or city I ever saw. The band is just coming into the Y. M. C. A. to give the Tenth Regiment a concert. I guess this is all for this time so will close hoping you are having a good time, I remain,

Yours sincerely,
George A. Lane.

P. S.—Enjoying myself. Going to send some cotton and phosphorus home. We had the phosphorus at night on the ground when it "lights up." The Tenth has some band. Chaplain Fraser, of the Tenth, made us a good speech. Give by best wishes and love to all. Haven't received that Q. M. C. transfer yet. Companies I, K, L, M, are to be changed to the machine gun corps of the light artillery and sent to Texas or North Carolina soon.

An opportunity to buy Men's Wool Hose at the "old prices." Good heavy wool hose, 25c. Fine wool cassimere hose, 35c. Extra fine cassimere, 75c values 50c.

EUREKA LAUNDRY COMPANY

CASE EASY FOR O.S.U.

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS, SEPT. 29.—The Ohio State football team, western conference champions of 1916, opened the season here today by soundly beating the Case eleven of Cleveland 19 to 0. "Chic" Harley, all American half back, opened the season by a kick of fifty yards to Britton, who returned it to his twenty yard line. After four and one half minutes of play Boesel went thru center for four yards and the first touchdown.

From then on State went thru Keifer's apparently weak line at will

STATE SUPPLIES DATA ON AID FOR SCHOOLS

Prof. I. C. Shaw, county superintendent of schools, received the following instructions from the state school supervisor Saturday.

Under the present law school districts are required to pay certain minimum salaries to the regular elementary and high school teachers.

In order that these salaries may be paid in cases where the district has exhausted its revenue producing power and finds itself unable to pay the full sum required, the state extends aid

The salaries fixed by law are as follows.

Elementary teachers without previous teaching experience in Ohio $55.00

Elementary teachers having at least one year's professional training $55.00

Elementary teachers who have completed the full two years' course in any normal school, teachers' college or university approved by the State Superintendent $60.00

High school teachers, not to exceed an average of $80.00

In order to qualify for this aid the salaries fixed by laws must be paid; the schools must be open for eight months in the year; the district must levy the maximum amount permitted by law, and two-thirds of this levy must be for the Tuition Fund.

Application blanks can be obtained by calling at the County Supt. office.

LEGAL NOTICE!

Zoe Butler, whose place of residence is unknown, is hereby notified that Fred M. Butler has filed his petition against her for divorce, in the Court of Common Pleas of Coshocton County, Ohio; and that said cause will be for hearing on or after the thirteenth day of October, 1917.

JOSEPH L. McDOWELL,

Attorney for Plaintiff.

Sept. 2, 9, 16, 23, 30, Oct 7.

SAYS BODY IS A POISON FACTORY

Urges everyone to drink glass of hot water before breakfast.

Just as coal, when it burns, leaves behind a certain amount of incombustible material in the form of ashes, so the food and drink taken day after day leaves in the alimentary canal a certain amount of indigestible material, which if not completely eliminated, turns to poisonous toxins and to keep the entire alimentary canal clean, pure and fresh. From this mass of left over waste, toxins and ptomaine-like poisons are formed and sucked into the blood.

Men and women who can't get feeling right must begin to take inside baths. Before eating breakfast each morning drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash out of the stomach yesterday's accumulation of poisons and waste from the system each day, be-

Those who are subject to sick headache, colds, biliousness, constipation, others who wake up with bad taste foul breath, backache, rheumatic stiffness, or have a sour, gassy stomach after meals, are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store, and begin practicing internal sanitation. This will cost very little, but is sufficient to make anyone an enthusiast on the subject.

Remember inside bathing is more important than outside bathing, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing poor health, while the bowel pores do. Just as soap and hot water cleanses, sweetens and freshens the skin, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels.

Thinks Alabama Is Fine Country

The following letter from Joe Touvell has been received by his mother, Mrs. Fred Touvell, Conesville, Route 1:

Montgomery, Ala., Sept. 19, 1917.

Dear Mother:

Iarrived safe in Alabama and in good health. This is a fine country. It is very hot in the afternoon. They raise peanuts, cotton and sugar here. Am sending you some cotote, but will send a bag full later. The soil is very sandy.

The people are kind and seem glad to have us with them. They all try to do what they can for us soldiers. I do not know how long we will be here. I would not mind staying here a year as I like it so much. This is all I will write this time. Will write you more later. Best wishes and good luck to you all. I remain,

Your loving son,
JOE TOUVELL.

Yes, the late Saturday night shoppers are good friends of D. O. Thompson. They appreciate our efforts to please them. Store open every Saturday night 11:00 o'clock. Why not?

STORK VISITS.

A son was born Saturday morning to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Foster of Roscoe.

Born, Saturday morning, a son to Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Fink, of South Third street. The child has been named Esper Winfield.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Fleming, of Canal Lewisville, a son.

They have come the "old fashion" heavy blue Jersey work shirts. The kind you used to wear, at D. O. Thompson's. They are the working man's friend.

Raw Eggs Keep Longest.

Raw eggs keep good much longer than cooked eggs, even when these are hard boiled. This was proved by Dr. Lean Lindet, a member of the Paris Counsell d'Hygiene, after many French soldiers had reported that the hard-boiled eggs they received from home had gone bad, while the raw eggs remained edible for weeks. Doctor Lindet explains this fact by saying that the boiling makes the inner membrane pervious to gases, liquids and microbes, and the white of the egg becomes an agglomeration of coagulated albumen and particles of a serum that is an ideal medium in which microbes thrive.

FARM DEAL.

The Henry Zeiger farm near Warwick mine was traded to Louis Stiner for property on South Lawn avenue. The deal was made by Snyder Real Estate agency. The same agency also purchased a five-roomed house from Harriet Shaw on Fifteenth street.

AUTO ROUTES DURING FAIR MADE PUBLIC

The following route for automobiles and taxi drivers was made Saturday by Mayor Richardson and Chief Mapel for fair week:

Starting at railroad, east on Main street to Seventh street; south on Seventh street to Ash street; west on Ash street o South Lawn avenue; north on South Lawn avenue to Walnut; west on Walnut to Fourth street; north on Fourth street to Main street; east on Main street to railroad.

Hack drivers will not be permitted on Fifth street, Sixth street and Hickory street between Walnut and Main streets during the fair.

Chief Mapel calls particular attention to the importance of observing the traffic laws with reference to speeding and turning corners and cautions autoists about taking care of their own cars. The number of automobiles stolen all over the country is astounding. Every day Chief Mapel receives from one to twenty notices from chiefs of police in the various cities of Ohio concerning the theft of automobiles.

Think of a Wheelless World.

If a Supreme Being, moved to wrath against humanity, desired to deprive it of one of its vital assets in life, it would be sufficient punishment to take away the wheel, and make it impossible to continue it henceforth, says a writer in the current issue of American Motorist. Imagine, for a moment, the world without a single wheel! There would be no transportation except that performed by beasts of burden or sailing craft, and all machinery would be at once reduced to a few hand tools. The clock would throw up its hands and pass its job over to the sun dial and the hour glass. In short, once the wheel was taken from man, instantly he is put back practically into prehistoric conditions. Think the matter over, and you will realize that the debt of civilization to the common wheel is beyond computation. If the world could only ascertain who the discoverer of the wheel really was, it should erect to him the most splendid monument ever built by man, because no man since Adam has done so much for human progress as the original wheel man, whoever he was.

The Girl That Counts.

There are cloudy days and days of sunshine. The cloudy days have their limitations; for certain conditions they are acceptable and we welcome the gray sky, the heavy rains. But the day of sunshine has no limitations; it is always welcome, always joy bearing. The sick, the helpless, the laborer, the weary, all hail the day of sunbeams, and this is just what happens to the girl who scatters sunshine. The gloomy girl is given standing room, but the girl who leaves a ray of sunshine everywhere is the girl that everyone welcomes. The girl who works with a smile, the girl who looks on the bright side, who always has a cheery word, who can find time to take a bunch of flowers to a friend, or write a word of sympathy to the one in need—in short, the girl who can transform sadness into gladness, by the force of her sunny presence, is the girl that counts wherever she may be found.—Exchange.

Use of Graphite.

Graphite is not a lubricant, but an aid to keeping a bearing in good working order by filling up the minute irregularities of the shaft and bearing and producing a beautiful, polished surface, and in this way reduce friction. To get this result only a very small quantity of graphite is necessary, and if too much is applied it simply collects in wads and defeats the purpose intended. It follows that the proper way to use graphite successfully is to mix thoroughly a small quantity with the lubricating oil at suitable intervals, and not to apply it continuously, for when the above-mentioned polished surface is formed it will last quite a long time before requiring renewal.

X-Rays Cure Ringworm.

The only way to effect a prompt cure of ringworm of the head or beard, according to Dr. Charles Wolf of New York, is by the use of the X-rays. In his answer to the New York Medical Journal's question as to its cure, he describes how this treatment is given, and added that it should be followed by the use of a 20 per cent sulphur ointment.

COURT HOUSE NEWS

Meriwether J. Purdy, of Killbuck, has commenced suit in common pleas court to secure judgment against the Wildermuth Oil company, of Columbus, to secure judgment in the sum of $725.25 for services alleged to have been performed in drilling an oil well on the Alex Fortune farm in Clark township. Sheriff Earl Cullison appraised two wells belonging to the company Saturday.

IN JUVENILE COURT.

Edwin Schavey, of Roscoe, was given a suspended sentence to the Boys' Industrial School at Lancaster when he faced Judge Milo Ely on an indictment returned by the grand jury charging him with operating an automobile without the owner's consent. While Schavey was driving the car the gears were stripped and the suspension of the sentence was made conditional on the payment by Schavey of the bill for repairs.
